

Fiery Flames

*Utter destruction and fiery flames,
All came down to the government's shame,
Did the people deserve this tragic event?
Is that what the government wanted to present.*

*Families and friends all asleep in their beds,
Waiting for the sun to rise again,
Little did they know it was soon to be their end,
In fiery flames and ashes they begged for help.*

*They breathed their last breath,
As they fell to their unfortunate death,
Amongst those who survived the fiery flames,
Who is the one to blame?*

*No one has forgotten though time has passed,
The effects of this will forever last...*

By Kauthar Alwan and Zahrin Ali